News, Opinions and Comments Pertaining to the Efforts of Toronto Jewry to Assist in the Reconstruction of Palestine.

Dr. Goldstein and Col. Patterson

Toronto Jewry will be signally honoured this week-end by the visit of two men of very considerable importance in the world of Jewish affairs.

Dr. Goldstein is one of the younger leaders of the Zionist movement. He comes from Russia, where Jewish life is still pregnant with Jewish ideals and Jewish emotions. There centuries of concentration upon Jewish interests and devotion to Jewish learning and thought have produced types of very complete and thorough-going Jews. In Russia, Jewry is profound and its Judaism is vital. An outstanding Russian Jew can, therefore, always be expected to deliver to us a message vibrating with reality drawn from the depths of intense experience.

Col. Patterson is a non-Jew. An Irishman and a Britisher, he represents to us the finer instincts of the great people with whom the fate of our Palestine is linked up. Col. Patterson was the organizer of the historic Zion Mule Corps, and the commander of the Jewish Legion. The Jewish youth who went to fight and bleed for Palestine found in him an inspiration for Zionist sacrifice. Col. Patterson has fought for a Jewish Palestine. To him the ideal of a Judaea restored is sacred. And he, the "goy," is now travelling around telling Jews not to betray the cause of their own people.

Toronto Jewry will welcome these two prominent guests as they deserve to be welcomed. It will pay the requisite honour to its brilliant compatriot and to the noble Britisher who is fighting the battle of the Jew.

The Building Outlook

It is not the building outlook in Toronto that we will discuss. It is the outlook of the building of Palestine that concerns us here. Days are slipping by, months and years. And the progress in Palestine is so small! And time is so precious! Who is to blame? The heroic pioneers, the chalutzim in Palestine? Our leaders, who are working day and night and wandering from place to place and from country to country calling the Jews to do their duty? The building outlook in Palestine is gloomy. The brickmakers over there need straw. And we are slow in furnishing the material. We need not resent being reproved continuously: "Every day, in every way, we are not doing enough for Palestine."

"I" and "You"

Most people are generally very fond of the first person. The pronoun "I" is a warm favourite. But when it comes to doing things for the community these very same people conceive a love for the second person, and will almost invariably say: "You do it."

Good or Bad?

Toronto is generally known as "Toronto the Good." For some reason or other, however, Toronto Jewry has acquired a bad reputation among the Jews in Western Canada. Dr. Goldstein and Col. Patterson have had it dinned into them in practically every city in the west, that the Toronto Jewish community is bad. Of course, this reputation is undeserved and unjust. We are sure that when our guests leave us they will have found out that it was only a case of jealousy.

They Are Wondering

Mr. Dave Dunkelman: "What will the thousands of Jews who will be turned away from Massey Hall on Sunday evening, on account of lack of accommodation, do with their evening?"

Mr. Sam Kronick: "Will there be many Jews in the audience yelling 'Yiddish' when Col. Patterson will be speaking?"

Mr. M. Gelber: "Who is entitled to move 'Olom Ha'bo'—a non Jewish Zionist, or a non-Zionist Jew?"

(Note: When this goes to press we learn that Mr. Gelber has reached a decision: "Give me the Zionist goy every time.")

Dr. Brickner: "Will the presence of the pretty Jewish girls at the meeting, dressed as Hadassah nurses, indicate that some one or something in the audience is sick?"

Dr. M. Schwartz: "Will Col. Patterson forget himself when he sees the Jewish boys who served under him, at the meeting in a body, and start putting them through a drill?"

Mr. Dave Bennett: "Will the Memoph, Indoor Baseball champions, and the Balfour Rugby champions show some of their championship form in the Keren Hayesod Campaign?"

Rabbi Siegel: "Will Toronto Jews realize on Passover evening, this year, that it is up to them to give their grandchildren and great-grandchildren some excuse to brag about the part of their ancestors in the present-day redemption of Palestine?"

Rivka: "What has bobbed hair, or a two-hundred-dollar evening gown or a diamond platinum ring got to do with Zionism?" And she answers: "You can possess all the hirsute growths that the art of Pember can produce, or be a walking advertisement of Campbell's or Scheuer's, and still be a good Hadassah member."

(Note: We apologize to "f.f.c." for using her "Rivka.")

Personal Mention

Mrs. D. Dunkelman is entertaining every afternoon and evening (except Saturday) at the Zionist Institute—herself.

Mr. Sam Kronick is holding a "smoker" at every Zionist meeting he attends. He is always assisted by Mr. S. Harris in that "smoker" part.

Mr. L. Gelber promises to show during the next campaign that his brother, "Moishe" is not the only ardent Zionist in the family.

Mr. Morris Till is ready to receive all the cash that will come in during the campaign.

Mr. Jacob Becker has been laid up with the "flu" and therefore unable to do as much as he would like to do in the preparations for the campaign. When it comes to "building up" Palestine, he should know a thing or two about the job.

Mr. Charlie Garfunkel assures us that it was not his Zionist vein that needed operating on. He is on hand for the Zionist work, though hobbling around.

The cheering and confident smile of Mrs. Sadie Willinsky has not been seen around the Zionist Institute of late. Just tell her about a Zionist campaign, and she will be on the job. She did wonderful work during the last campaign.

Mrs. Percy Shulman and her family are going to Quebec for a couple of weeks to permit Percy to spend all his evenings at the Keren Hayesod office.

Col. Patterson will be met at the station by the Jewish Legionaries who served under him. Mr. Kohl is the only Toronto Jew who was a member of the Colonel's "Zion Mule Corps."

The Mass Meeting

The doors will open at 7.30 o'clock. Reserved seat tickets holders will have to be in the hall by 7.45 to get the benefit of the reservations. Reserved seat tickets will be distributed at the Zionist Institute on Thursday evening and Saturday evening and on Sunday free of charge. Toronto Jewry simply must show its appreciation of our distinguished guests by crowding Massey Hall to capacity. [illegible]

Hadassah

On Monday evening next there will be a reception at the Zionist Building in honour of Lieut.-Col. Patterson and Dr. Alexander Goldstein. All the Hadassah Chapters will take part in this meeting which will consist mainly of an address by Col. Patterson on his experiences in Palestine.

Col. Patterson will be remembered in history as the man who led the Zion Mule Corps, in the fighting at Gallipoli. He has much to tell of conditions in Palestine and the message he brings is of peculiar interest to Hadassah members as he came into close contact with the work of the Hadassah Medical Unit. Dr. Alexander Goldstein is a member of the international Zionist executive.

All the members of the local Hadassah Chapters are urged to attend this meeting.

Delegates from all the Hadassah Chapters met at a meeting of the Hadassah Council at the Zoinist Building on Tuesday last. Mrs. Mark Hands, convener of the dance committee, reported on the arrangements that had been made up to date.

For the entertainment of those who do not dance it is intended to have special vaudeville acts performed by the various vaudeville teams who are in the city that week, and card playing, chess, checkers and dominos and other attractions. As has been previously announced the proceeds from this dance will go towards the Zionist Building. Tickets have already been issued and the Hadassah members are asked to make a special effort in the immediate disposal of them.

Junior Hadassah

At an Executive meeting of the Junior Hadassah the following conveners were appointed to the various committees: Music Committee—Miss Adeline Mi[illegible]; Dramatic Committee—Miss He[illegible]; Sewing Committee—Miss Schechter; Publicity Committee—Miss Stein; Membership Committee—Miss Bochner; Social Committee—Miss Schechter and Literary Committee—Miss Malkin.

The chapter will meet on Sunday at the Zionist Building at 2.30. Col. Patterson and Dr. Goldstein will deliver addresses. Members are asked to bring any prospective members to the meeting.

Council of Jewish Women

The next of the series of entertainments to be given by the Council will be held on March 22, when the Musical Study Circle will hold a musicale at the home of Mrs. J. J. Allen, 20 Roxboro Drive. Fine talent has been secured for this afternoon. Any members wishing tickets will kindly get in touch with Mrs. Allen, phone North 648.

GIRLS' CLUB

The Girls' Club has been very busy during the Purim season. Four entertainments included a splendid Purim play, "The Purim Basket," which was given last Sunday evening, and which was attended by over one hundred members. Two masquerades, one for the juniors, and one for the seniors, entertained nearly three hundred young people. Various parties have been given to the guides and children of the sewing school. A trip to the Art Gallery and Carnegie Library and a program of music and song has made a very busy and merry holiday week. The classes have not been neglected on this account, however, and all are filled, some to overflowing. The attendance for the past two weeks has been twelve hundred young people, and many visitors.

HERZL GIRLS

The Herzl Girls' Chapter, Hadassah, are holding their dance for members and friends at the Inglenook Tea Rooms, on Wednesday, March 7, 1923.

A tea will also be held at the home of Miss Edith Ginsberg, 30 D'Arcy Street, on Sunday, March 18. Members and their friends cordially welcome.

YOUNG JUDAEA

On Thursday evening last the Young Judaea of Toronto held a Purim entertainment at the Standard Theatre. Members of all the circles took part in this entertainment which consisted of two plays and some musical numbers. A feature of the program was the fact that one of the former—a three act play, "Purim, 1923"—was produced and directed by the author, Mr. Samuel Sumberg.

Mr. L. M. Singer addressed the audience on the significance of the holiday. Those who took part in the musical program were the Misses Bertha Rubin, Annie Rubin, Minnie Friedman, Sarah Rotenberg, Pauline Rappaport, Helena Fox, Irene Sumberg and Jennie Papernick.

The play which told the story of Purim was put on by an able cast consisting of the Misses Minnie Biernbohm, Lillian Garfinkle and Hilda Narrol, and Messrs. Harold Miskin, Robert Riman, Samuel Goldhar, Sidney Bowman, Harry Kertzer and Max Mandel.

A one-act play, "Little Heroes" under the direction of Mr. Sumberg, was played by six young boys, all of whom displayed rare ability. The cast was composed of Max Appel, Percy Wunch, Sam Levi, Richard Winsler, Arthur Garfinkle and Harry Jolofsky.

The entertainment was put on well and reflects on the ability of the younger people of the community.

QUEEN ESTHER LODGE

An enjoyable evening was spent by the ladies of Queen Esther Lodge, Judean Benevolent and Friendly Society, when about fifty of their members held a theatre party on Tuesday, March 6, at the Uptown Theatre, and afterwards at supper at Hunt's. Miss Evelyn Cross, assisted by several of the ladies, entertained with songs and music during the supper.

Purim Fair Clears $1,600

The Purim Fair held last week at the Hebrew Men of England Hall, Spadina Avenue, in aid of the Mothers' and Babes' Summer Rest Home of the Maturity Aid Society proved successful in its effort to raise funds for the upkeep of the Rest Home at Bronte for the coming summer. Approximately $1,600.00 was cleared.

The crowds that thronged the hall from the opening until 1 a.m. were conclusive proof that the good work done by the organization is appreciated by the Jewish people of Toronto. Much comment was heard of the enthusiasm and splendid work of those willing workers who were responsible for the success of this fair.

The "Purim Fair" was formally opened by Rabbi J. Siegel. The hall was attractively decorated and the various booths were decorated in contrasting shades of crepe papers and flowers.

THE ZIONIST CRISIS

ZIONIST propaganda the last few years has resembled the story of the shepherd lad who cried wolf so often that when the wolves really did come, no one would hearken to him, and so the sheep were devoured. At least so it has seemed to many. That the Zionists have been justified in crying wolf because the sheep were really always in danger does not even now seem to occur to our people. Especially now, when the wolves are tearing the shreds and picking the bones of that which has taken so long to develop, and the Zionists cry, Help! Help! the good Jewish folks stand off and utter cynicisms.

How discouraging it must be to our Zionist leaders, men like Weitzman, Levin, Sokolow and others, to find those for whom they are giving their very lives, let alone sacrificing brilliant careers, so indifferent to their pleadings. Dr. Weitzman arrived in New York City last Saturday with a call for help. In Canada are Col. J. H. Patterson, D.S.O., the commander of the famous 38th battalion of Jewish legionaries, with Dr. Goldstein, noted Jewish jurist and journalist, now endeavoring to stir up the Jewish heart so that the Jewish pockets will open wide in behalf of Palestine. They will be in Toronto over the week-end and will address what we hope will be a monster mass meeting in Massey Hall, on Sunday evening, March the 11th, at 8 o'clock. Every Jew in the city of Toronto owes it to himself to hear their message.

What a tragic sight it is to see a British officer of the Palestinian Campaign, who is one of the Chaside Umoth Ho-olom calling Jews to live up to their responsibility. Col. Patterson is a fine Christian gentleman and Britisher whose loyalty to British ideals impels him to suspend his personal business and interests to come here and point out to the Jews that they are reneging in their end of the partnership with Great Britain. For that is exactly what is happening.

To promote the mutual interests of the British Empire and Israel, a compact was entered into, duly signed and sealed, between the accredited representatives of these two historic peoples, both of whom have never in the past broken their pledge. Great Britain, true to her fine tradition, is living up to her contract. She has appointed as governor-general of Palestine a Jew, whose administrative ability and sense of fair play is tried and proven. Under his direction Great Britain is policing the country, instituting good government, building roads, and doing what in her power lies to build up the country in the spirit of the Mandate so that in time Palestine may become "as Jewish as England is English." Already Great Britain has spent millions of pounds in carrying out her side of the contract. What have the Jews done to carry out their pledge? It is a contract we are dealing with—it is not a mere moral or charitable subscription that is at stake. It is not with Chaim Weitzman or with Nahum Sokolow that this contract was entered into. They are merely respected individuals in the sight of the British Foreign Office. It was with them as the representatives and spokesmen of fifteen million Jews that Great Britain went into business to build up Palestine. As yet the Jews of the world have done comparatively nothing except pass resolutions of thanks, and hold exciting mass meetings where a lot of steam has been shot off in order to relieve the emotions. With talk and resolutions and shouts of hurrah, one may celebrate Purim, but no country has yet been built up that way, and no country ever will.

It is well to remember also that a day of reckoning will soon come, when the Secretary of the British Colonial Office will sit down with Dr. Weitzman, or his successor, to compare notes and to check one another up. The English Colonial Secretary will bring with him a long and itemized account sheet of expenditures and investments and improvements made in the land. What will our representative bring with him? Unless a radical change takes place, and a miracle occurs, he will bring with him a sack full of newspaper articles and speeches, arguing, pleading, scolding, urging the Jews to do their all for Palestine. But the Secretary will ask for more tangible results and our representative will then have to explain and offer excuses, excuses of this kind: "That the seven or eight million Jews of Russia and Poland and the former Austria-Hungary, on whom he could have depended, are bankrupt. That the few hundred thousand Jews of England along with other citizens have been heavily taxed. That the small number of Jews in Germany and France are also ruined." Then the British Secretary will ask with astonishment: "What about the four million Jews of America—the fortunate Jews in the United States and Canada whom God has spared and the war made rich—better off all of them at least, than they were before the war—what have they done? Did you not depend on them?" he will say.

"Well," our representatives will answer despondently, "they complain that times are bad and they have lost money in silk and woolens, in iron and copper; they have built large and palatial homes which are costly to maintain; they have increased their scale of living and can't bring it down—they are in the trough of economic depression—and what is more, they seem so indifferent and don't care."

To all this the Secretary of the British Colonial Office will listen with astonishment. "What!" he will say, "they don't care about the thousands of chaluzim and idealists waiting in the different centres of Europe for an opportunity to go to Palestine to work, if the funds were only forthcoming? They don't care about the fourteen chalutzim who last year committed suicide in Palestine because they became despondent for lack of employment?"

"How can the people who pride themselves on loving education be indifferent to the need of providing education to the thousands of Jewish children already in Palestine, whose thirst for learning is so much higher than that of the native Arab population and for whom the government can't provide adequate educational facilities out of public taxation, and which must depend on Zionist money?" He will continue, "What about the upkeep of your hospitals and sanitation and immigrant camps in the ports of entry where Jewish immigrants and their families are provided with food, shelter and maintenance, with a job and transportation to that job? Do you mean to say that the Jews of America, whom I can see are literally your only means of support, mean to let all that you have built at a cost of so much blood and tears go to pieces? For that is what it means if the Jews won't take care of their end of the contract, and that is what you contracted to do."

"Furthermore," England says to us, "we have made concessions to you such as we would make to no other people. Witness the Balfour declaration which we ratified in the Mandate, the Ruttenberg hydro-electric concession, the recognition of the Zionist organization as the Jewish agency. These and other concessions have involved us in political difficulties at home with our own members of parliament, who are constantly demanding to know why we are spending money in Palestine. We are involved in diplomatic complications with France on account of the Ruttenberg scheme, we have incurred the animosity of the Arabs, all to keep faith with you, and now you Jews who for 2,000 years have been crying and praying for justice, for Palestine, for a homeland, now when we to whom the Bible is sacred and who regard your political and social ideals as at the basis of our life, offer you the opportunity which is the first to come in two thousand years, you show yourselves indifferent and non-committal. What do you think the world will think of your pious prayers for Zion, your festivals and holidays based as they are on the idea of Zion, of those prophecies of yours predicting the return

Wet Wash—Washed and returned damp.
Rough Dry—Washed and dried.
Semi-Finished—Washed and ironed—all except the fussy corners.

Most articles of "family wash," such as flat wear, body clothes, aprons, etc., are sufficiently finished for use without further attention on your part when they return from the "Semi-Finished" process. A few touches of your hand iron will fix up the fussy corners of waists, shirts, etc. "Semi-Finished" is cheaper and easier on the family wash than any other known method and is rapidly replacing all other methods. A trial order will convince you.

ROUMANIAN CONGREGATION BANQUET

A jolly evening was spent on Sunday last when three hundred members and friends of the Hebrew Roumanian Congregation were entertained at a banquet and dance at the Men of England Synagog on Spadina Avenue. The hall was gayly decorated in blue and white, and yellow daffodils adorned the dinner tables. Hidden among tall palms, the orchestra played delightful music until 2 a.m. A short address was given by the president of the Congregation; other speakers followed. The affair was capably handled by the social committee, L. Hertzman, A. Shachter, L. Faibish and J. Leberman.

> That for what it cost me to be free

A gentile may know all Jews merely as Jews, whether they have done well or not, whether they wear the name as a badge of stigma or as one of mere differentiation. Even the mighty Rothschilds are aware of this, if the rumor is true that they have taken up Czecho-Slovakian citizenship through fear that Austria, where they have been rooted for a century, is no longer a safe haven. They may be Rothschilds, but after all they are just Jews. . . . . But among Jews themselves there are Jews and Jews. Wherever they demand tolerance of the goyim they withhold it from their co-religionists. What city on this continent has no dividing line of antagonism between Jews who are up in the world and those who are trying to be? A queer city, indeed, which does not harbor its coterie of Yehudim a-thirst for gentile recognition and patronage, eager for tolerance when they themselves are as intolerant toward their fellows as the goyim are toward them. And why shouldn't gentiles find enough about Jews to be prejudiced against them, if Jews themselves are filled with prejudice, one group for the other? Originally the Portuguese Jew would have none of the German Jew, and like a sophomore at college the German Jew passed on a dislike for the Russian Jew who is still in disfavor and will be until some other crowd comes over in sufficient numbers for him to turn up his nose at. But difference in race is not the only thing upon which prejudices are founded. That one group is Reform and the other Orthodox, that one is rich or the other poor, that one prefers to ignore the other rather than find common meeting grounds—these are some of the poor reasons why Jews nurse prejudices against Jews. . . . . . We are moved to these reflections by news from a city that we know well.

One of its citizens arose in open meeting the other evening and lauded an organization for its "democratization" of the Jews of the city. He praised it because its meetings were graced by those up in society and were open to those down in society as well, and the latter sat back and actually looked pleased. We could have burst a couple of bombs in this smug gathering by asking the uppers if they didn't hold the lowers in contempt just the same as before, and by inquiring of the lowers just what this "democratization" really meant, except a condescension toward them that was only half-concealed. The very existence of an organization designed to bring together both sides of town occasionally so that one half can observe the other as a curiosity, is an open confession of just what a failure artificial "democratization" is when it smacks of uplift.

It gives us glee to report that the English-Jewish press is still lifting its pens to speak in certain terms of that golden jubilee convention held recently in New York to celebrate fifty years (50 years) of Reform Judaism in America. Very few editorial writers were willing to swallow the usual bunk, hook, line and sinker, that is generally the case when people convene and spout moss-covered inanities that have to be written about. They are still criticizing, as this half-page of wisdom has done, the fact that nothing was accomplished commensurate with the importance of the occasion. But we claim originality with the suggestion that the next time would-be conventioners want to have a good time in New York (that birthplace of lavish entertainment) a collection be made of all the platinum bar-pins to be represented there, the railroad fare necessary and the price of food, and the resulting moneys be put to some good use.

to Zion which the world with you cherished. In the face of your indifference and inactivity the world cannot help but feel that your pious prayers of all are just insincere mummery and lip service, that the Jews have just been bluffing about Palestine.

Would that this were only an imaginary conversation. Unfortunately that is just what is happening. The moneys thus far contributed by the Jews of the U.S.A. and Canada to the Keren Hayesod have been but a drop in the bucket. It has already become a byword among the Palestinian Jews that the Jews of America, even those who visit Palestine, are just good promisers who get enthusiastic and even promise under the spell of good oratory. But when it comes to keeping their promises, that is a different story.

The Zionist situation to-day is extremely critical. This is the same as saying that the Jewish situation is critical. Unless the Jews of America "come across," there is [illegible]. STAR CAR CONTEST INTERESTS THOUSANDS

Mrs. C. Stevens, 150 Sherwood Avenue, is Lucky Winner of Free Star Car

Compilation of the final results of the Star Car Anniversary Contest were finished on Monday night and the Toronto Durant Company have already presented to Mrs. C. Stevens, who turned in the nearest correct answer on February 21, her new Star Touring Car. Arthur E. Hastings, Manager of Tests and Contests of the Ontario Motor League, it was seen that the car had travelled 543 miles and five-tenths during the thirteen days travelling from February 14 to February 28, and among the thousands of carefully tabulated contest cards received, the three entrants named above were found to have been the winners.

The outstanding social event of last week was the ladies' night reception and dance given by the Palestine Lodge, A. F. and A. M. No. 559, at the Masonic Temple, Yonge Street, Wednesday. The hall was decorated with gay festoons and palms and prettily illuminated by shaded lights. A splendid twelve-piece orchestra, banked with palms, was in attendance. Brodey and Mrs. Brodey, Mr. William Gittes and Mrs. Gittes, Mr. Abe Singer and Mrs. Singer, Past Master E. J. Repath. Worshipful Master M. J. Singer gave an address of welcome after which Miss Sara Gordon charmingly entertained with several vocal selections and Miss Goodfellow played the accompaniments. ISA KREMER

Isa Kremer was born in Russia and, like Sara Bernhardt, became famous overnight. Before achieving her present success she was a prize pupil of Ronzi, a teacher of opera in Italy. Even then, all her roles were dominated by her powerful personality. While still very young she sang "Mimi" with Anzelmi in "La Bohème" and famous critics predicted for her, at that time, 1913, a brilliant career. But genius knows no bounds and notwithstanding her success, the artist renounced the opera to concentrate her talents to the ungrateful and difficult art of interesting an audience in a program of folk-songs without scenery or accessories, nothing but her brilliant personality. How well she has succeeded is a matter of musical history throughout Europe. It was in Moscow, in 1916, during the war, that Isa Kremer became famous overnight. Unknown the preceding evening she became illustrious the next day and like an illuminated train, glittering and sparkling, the fame of the artist spread throughout the world.

RABBI SIEGEL OF TORONTO VISITS OTTAWA

In a forceful address on "The Causes of Anti-Semitism," which Rabbi Siegel of the University Avenue Synagog, Toronto, delivered before The Young Men's and Young Women's Hebrew Associations, of Ottawa, on Sunday evening at the King Edward Avenue Institute, he said: "The problem of Anti-Semitism is at present occupying the thoughts of the greatest minds of the world. Much laborious study has been given to it and the conclusions reached vary of course as the prejudgments and prejudices of the investigators. It is my belief, however, that Dr. Horace F. Kallen has analyzed the question most scientifically and has discovered some of the roots of modern anti-Semitism. According to Dr. Kallen the plan of the Jew in Christian dogma was the place of the villain in a drama and naturally he was the one suspected and also the one to be slapped. Modern anti-Semitism has for its immediate cause the great world conflict. The emotions of hatred generated by the great conflict are still operative and active though directed at a different objective. The formal signing of a peace treaty does not immediately change the psychology of the participants in the war. The psychology remains essentially the same and must naturally vent itself against someone. If it is not the Kaiser any more it is Bolshevism, and if it not Bolshevism,

NOTICE OF DIVORCE APPLICATION

NOTICE is hereby given that LEEMAN FRASER MONTGOMERY, of the City of Toronto, in the County of York, in the Province of Ontario, will apply to the Parliament of Canada at the present session thereof, or if it be not then in session at the following session thereof, for a Bill of Divorce from his wife, EDITH HORNE MONTGOMERY, of the said City of Toronto, in the County of York, on the ground of adultery.

Dated at Toronto, this 26th day of February, 1923.

J. I. COHEN,

Solicitor for the Applicant.

it is the Jew. The anti-Semitism of Haman was of a more rabid kind than that of Ford, Chesterton, Belloc and Co. It would seem, therefore, that the dispersion of the Jewish people and his presence in every community and clime were the true causes of the sentiments directed against him." In concluding the Rabbi said that a people which had no homeland of its own and always sojourned as a tolerated guest in other countries naturally became hypersensitive and very touchy, and as a result much that was considered serious anti-Semitism to-day would be a mere passing whim or caprice if the Jew had a national home.

At the conclusion of the address, Mr. A. J. Freiman moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Rabbi in which he was seconded by Dr. J. N. Nathanson. Mr. Freiman, president of the Canadian Zionist Organization, complimented the speaker on his eloquence and on the forceful way that he had brought out the point that Zionism was a solution of anti-Semitism. Preceding the speech the following program was much enjoyed: Piano solo, Miss G. Epstein; recitation, Miss Mae Brodie; violin solo, Mr. Morris Hyman, accompanied by his brother, Mr. Charles Hyman. Mr. Ben Fox, chairman of the literary committee presided.

In the afternoon Rabbi Julius Siegel addressed the Young Judaean circle of the Y. M. and Y. W. H. A. who were holding a Purim celebration. The subject of his address was, "Loyalty." Taking Aesop's fable of "The Bat" as his illustration he insisted that every Jew must admit his religion and his race unflinchingly. The following program was carried out: Mr. Joseph Coplan gave an interesting talk on Purim; a recitation by Sam Kaufman; piano solo by Miss M. Freedman; a debate on "Was Esther Justified in Marrying King Ahasuerus?" affirmative, the Misses A. Horwitz, N. Cooper and F. Carlofsky; negative, Messrs. S. Max, A. Lazarus and B. Brodie, was won by the affirmative. The judges were: Rabbi Siegel, Miss Fanny Zivian and Mr. Ben Fox. The rest of the program consisted of a reading by Miss A. Freedman, piano duet by the Misses F. Carlofsky and F. Mosion. Miss F. Carlofsky also read the Y.W.H.A. Judaean paper. Refreshments were served under the supervision of the chairman of the entertainment committee, Mr. Julius Goldberg and dancing followed. Mr. Ben Edelson presided.

The Y.M.H.A. Juvenile basketball team won the second half championship of the Juvenile league by beating the Collegiate Greys 28 to 19. It was a hard fought game of which Syd Abelson was the star, with Abramovitch playing fine ball throughout.

A most successful Purim masquerade was held at Racquet Court on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Rideau Street Synagog of which Mrs. M. B. Margosches is president. About 250 young people were present and a great number of pretty costumes were worn. The orchestra was under the direction of Mr. Max Bregman.

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent on Sunday by the pupils of the Ottawa Hebrew Sunday School, in celebration of Purim. The results of two essay competitions were announced and prizes presented to the successful competitors. In the first competition, which was open to the pupils of Mr. Caplan's class, the subject was "A Bible Story." The first prize was won by Miss Frances Ashe, and second by Miss Annie Simonoff. The other competition was open to all pupils of the school and was an essay on Purim. This was won by Miss Sarah Zumar of Mr. Lieff's class. Following the presentation of the prizes and the reading of the essays by the prize-winners, Miss Fanny Fleming gave a recitation. Appropriate hymns were sung by all the school and a violin duet by the Misses Sarah Cohen and Etta Boguslavsky followed. Mr. Lazarus Greenberg, the president of the Sunday School, addressed the gathering on the conduct of the school; and Miss Mary Eskin tendered the thanks of the pupils to their teachers. The proceedings closed with the singing of "God Save the King." Boxes of candies were distributed to all present. The teachers of the Sunday School are the Misses Pearl Goldfield and Lillian Levine and Messrs. Lazarus Greenberg, A. Lieff, Sam Caplan, I. Stone and Joe Freedman.

The members of the Hadassah Chapter met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. Wener, of Besserer Street, for the regular weekly sewing meeting and carried on the work for the Palestine hospitals. Refreshments were served at the tea hour.

A charming Japanese musical tea was given by Miss B. Drazin last Tuesday afternoon in aid of the Junior Hadassah. The rooms were tastefully decorated with Japanese decorations and many of the guests wore typical costumes. The hostess was assisted in receiving by Miss Bertha Slonemsky, the president of the Junior Hadassah. The musical program was as follows: Violin solo, Miss Zelda Wener; piano solo, Miss Pearl Slonemsky; three recitations by little Miss Helen Dover; Salome dance, Miss Miriam Caplan. There were five tables of bridge for the married guests, the prize being won by Mrs. E. Cohen. Those assisting at the tea table were: Mrs. B. Edelson and the Misses Bertha Slonemsky, Anne Golub, Goldie Epstein and Sarah Horwitz. The door prize was won by Miss Anne Golub. This prize which is

Beth Jacob Social Circle

Successful and enjoyable was the fourth annual dance of the Beth Jacob Social Circle, held Wednesday evening, February 28, in the Rose Room of the Arcade, which was artistically decorated with bowers of carnations and roses, the numerous floor lamps lending an effective glow for the occasion. Many beautiful gowns were worn. Novel favours, streamers, hats, etc., were distributed during the evening. Supper was served during which the president, Mr. Ab. Walters, made a short speech thanking all guests and members for their kind co-operation. Messrs. Chas. Levinson, Jack Sherman, and David Robinson, past presidents of the club, Mr. Herman Scholes, newly-elected vice-president, and Mr. Joe Sweet, president of the Progress League, were called upon by the president, Mr. Walters for addresses. Through the courtesy of Manager Stroud, of Pantages Theatre, and the kind efforts of Mr. Harry Herman, former actor who is visiting in this city, Mr. Larry Horkins and his Monarch Melody Entertainers delighted all with their songs. A sincere appreciation of thanks was extended for their kindness. Thanks are also due Messrs. D. Davidovitz and Jack Sherman for assisting at the door, also to the executive, Messrs. Ab. Walters, Philip Walters, Edward Goodman, David Sutton and Morley Goldblatt; Misses Jessie Levin, Bessie Schrieber, Frances Kates, Nina Zola, Freda Kortsman and Bessie Frohman, who were responsible for the affair.

Beth Jacob Religious School

Sunday evening the Beth Jacob Religious School, which is conducted under the auspices of the Beth Jacob Junior Congregation, played host to the parents and friends of the children to a delightful Purim entertainment held at the school-rooms of the Beth Jacob Synagog. The spacious rooms were filled to the utmost capacity, a great number of those viewing the performance being unable to secure seats. Mr. Dave Robinson, president of the school in welcoming the visitors reviewed the rapid progress being made by the school since its organization some few months ago. Appreciation was expressed to the teaching staff, Misses Etta Levin, Matilda Davidovitz, Jessie Levin and Freda Kortsman, Messrs. Joseph Lang, George Goldblatt and Ab. Walters. Mention was made of the unfailing assistance given by Rabbi Levin at all times. The program which was well received, was as follows: Piano selection, Lily Forcht; violin solo, Samuel Wiener; reading 23rd Psalm, David Levy; vocal numbers, Miss Dora Cohen, Edward Goodman, accompanied by Miss Frances Tick; piano solo, Miss Sara Jacobovitz; comedy sketch, Master Daniel Milgrom and Jake Sikonofsky; A two-act play entitled "Esther, the Jewish Queen," portraying the Biblical story of the Book of Esther.

The headliner of the evening's program was admirably presented, the members of the cast of characters displaying marked histrionic ability. The leading roles, those of Esther the Queen, and Ahasuerus, Sultan of the Persian-Median Empire were taken by Miss Rose Caplan and Master Nathan Siegel. The others who all filled their parts well, were Haman, prime minister of Persia, Master Joe Perelgut; Modecai, Master Sam Paiken; Macklah and Naomi, attendants to the Queen, Miss Dorothy Kates and Sara Wright; Harbonah, a chamberlain, Jack Vertlieb; Queen's train-bearer, little Reta Schrieber.

Special attention was paid to the costumes, which were in accord with those of the period of Esther. Thanks are due to the Mintz Hair Emporium for their kindness in loaning the costumes and material worn by the King and Haman, and Mordecai. Following the program the School Club served refreshments. The evening was brought to a conclusion with the singing of the Hatikvah and God Save the King, Miss Rose Wright playing the accompaniment. Mr. D. A. Robinson as coach deserves great credit for the pains taken in insuring a gratifying success, which the play actually was.

Rabbi Berger acted as chairman. Miss Robinson was presented with a beautiful beaded bag, from the pupils of the Anshe Sholom Sunday School as a mark of appreciation of her untiring efforts in producing such an excellent performance.

Council News

The English classes under the auspices of the Council celebrated Purim last Wednesday evening in the United Hebrew Building. A large number of members and friends were present. The pupils presented several readings, among which was a chapter from David Copperfield, and the debate "Should Capital Punishment be Abolished?" Mr. Price who opened the debate in the affirmative argued his points very ably, and Mr. Garfield in the negative also. The judges gave their decision in favour of Mr. Price. Miss Regina Fleigleman, one of the students, acted as chairman. Rabbi Berger addressed the gathering in a very eloquent manner.

Miss A. Robinson was greatly surprised when the students of the English classes presented her with a volume of "Flint and Feathers," Rudyard Kipling's. Under her capable leadership the students have made rapid progress and as a mark of appreciation the pupils made the presentation.

Friday evening services were held in the Anshe Sholom Synagog. This being Council Sabbath, the members turned out in large numbers. The choir was in their usual splendid form, and Rabbi Berger's sermon was delivered to a very interested audience, his subject being "Purim and What It Stands for—Loyalty."

Montreal

Dr. Weizmann has issued for publication the following statement:

In an article which appeared in the "Jewish Times" of February 9, certain statements are made purporting to represent my views and opinions on various matters affecting the Zionist movement. While in the course of a general conversation, I touched upon the generally admitted need for reorganization. I desire to make it clear that some of the statements attributed to me were not made by me at all, while the others were so entirely misunderstood that I must decline all responsibility for them.

The operetta, "The Pennant," which was produced by the Temple Emanu-El Sisterhood, in aid of their social service fund, at the Empire Theatre last Sunday evening, was a most complete success. The performance went on with a dash and swing rarely seen in an amateur production, and not for one moment did the action slow up. The honours of the evening go to Miss Etta Pinsler, a fine dramatic soprano, Miss Hazel Hoffman who was the heroine of the opera, Mr. Sam Horwitz, who made an excellent Up-country rube and Mr. H. J. Seman, the English lord. The melodies were as light and airy as some of the Gilbert and Sullivan scores, and the choruses, both male and female, did them justice. The "Pennant Chorus" and "Twinkle, Twinkle" were both very tuneful.

The cast was as follows: Bennie Owen, the coach, Joseph Glickman; Jack Lawson, captain of the team, Jack Klein; Mason, a friend of Jack, Carl Lewis; Verdant Green, freshman from Up-country, Sam Horwitz; Levi Lender, marriage broker, Nat Hoffman; Lord Woodby Rich, an heiress hunter, H. J. Seman; Doris Bond, adopted daughter of Mr. Bond, Miss Hazel Hoffman; Miss Sweet, a friend of Doris, Miss Muriel Goldstein; Miss Young, a friend of Doris, Miss Esther Asner; Mrs. Reno Grass, a widow, Miss Etta Pinsler; Mrs. Jeremiah Bond, society climber, Mrs. Joseph Aron; Mr. Jeremiah Bond, stock broker, Harold Fischel; Ladies of the Chorus: Misses Molly Bald, Jessie Bloomfield, Rose Daniels, Sevilla Dryer, Dorothy Goldenberg, Mildred Gordon, Rhae Ginsberg, Bertha Neuman, Marjorie Neuman, Henrietta Snyder, Anna Yelin, Stelle Vilinsky; Gentlemen of the Chorus: Messrs. B. Abrams, H. Caplan, V. Fischel, A. Goldberg, B. Michaels, J. Goldenberg, R. Michaels, H. Neuman, N. Rubin, L. Samit, A. Stattner, J. Wechsler, P. Fels.

The orchestra, which was very fine, indeed, was made up of the following:

Concert Master, Louis King; 1st Violins, D. Rubin, S. Lang; 2nd Violins, A. Lang, A. Schwartz; 'Cellos, H. Herschorn, A. Rubin; Bass, I. Pevzner; Clarinet, B. Rutenberg; Cornet, S. Rutenberg; Piano, A. Snyder; Drums, M. Levi.

Between the first and second act of the operetta Rabbi Max L. Merritt appeared on the stage and made two presentations on behalf of the Sisterhood. Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Snyder, who were untiring in their efforts to make this production a success, were presented with a tea-waggon, and Mr. Carl Crawford, who arranged the dances, was the recipient of a smoking set. Mr. Rupert Caplan, who coached the cast, is indeed to be congratulated upon the result of his labour.

Among the box-holders at the performance were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Michaels, Mr. and Mrs. Max Jacobs, Rabbi Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kernes, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kruger, Mrs. G. Fischel, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dobrovsky, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Workman, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Workman, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Levy and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Morris.

The Young People's League of Chevra Kadisha are to hold their next meeting at the League's headquarters on March 20. An interesting musical program is being arranged in conjunction with Canada's music week. There is a treat in store for members and their friends in that special plans have been made for the work of the ensuing year.

There was a very interesting program at the Purim concert of the Shaar Hashomayim Sunday School last Sunday afternoon. Louis de Zurnek, one of the pupils of the highest class, read a paper on "Purim." There were three entertaining little playlets: "Three Wishes," a fairy tale produced by the Starlit Club of Y.W.H.A., "Purim and Hoskey" which was given in Hebrew by members of the Hebrew class, and "Advertising for a Servant," a laughable skit put on by the Girl Guides. The rest of the program was as follows: Piano solo, Helen Park; piano solo, Gladys Samit; paper, Laurence Marks; recitation, Zelda Weiner; piano solo, Eileen Fels; Hebrew song, Eveleyn Elkin and school; recitation, Jennie Bessner; piano solo, Vera Weinfeld.

The Nair Tamid Circle held a dance at Zionist headquarters on February 28. This, the first social affair of the Circle, was a success in every way. Plans were discussed at the last meeting held on March 6 for the debate which is to take place shortly.

The young people of Shaar Hashomayim Synagog are rehearsing "Trial by Jury," the comic opera by Gilbert and Sullivan, which they hope to produce some time next month. Although the entire cast has not yet been definitely fixed upon, Miss Etta Pinsler, Mr. Abe Rother and Mr. Jay Wolfe are taking leading parts.

A general meeting of Young Judaeans was held at Kingston, on Sunday, February 25. Mr. Phil Joseph of Montreal, president of Young Judaea, addressed the gathering. The spirit of Kingston Young Judaea is altogether encouraging. Although there are but seventy members, they are all active; have organized a leaders' club and have successfully carried on the work of five Judaean clubs. On Sunday evening Messrs. Phil Joseph, Henry Silverstone and Max Crestohl, Young Judaeans from Montreal, were entertained at the home of Mr. Abramson, Queen Street, where they had an opportunity of meeting Kingston Judaeans socially.

On the afternoon of March 4, the pupils of the Temple Emanu-El Sabbath School, were given a Purim frolic in the Temple Hall. Movies were shown, among the pictures filmed being the story of Abraham. A short program had been planned to entertain the kiddies. Little Miss Sylvia Presner danced an old-fashioned dance very delightfully, and there were recitations by Golda Vineberg and Henry Brandt. After the pictures were shown, chairs were cleared away and the children, who were all dressed in masque costumes, danced. Mr. Harry Davis awarded the prizes for best costumes to June Schwartz, "Miss Sunshine," and Leon Robinson, "Scotch Highlander." John Kupenheimer, who came swathed in bath towels as "Saturday, Knight of the Bath," was given first honourable mention.

A debate between the representatives of the Menorah Societies of the University of Toronto and McGill took place in the McGill Union on Saturday, March 3. The subject was "Resolved that the Jewish religion in its fundamental principles as well as its external forms, should be modified to conform with the developments of modern science and culture." Messrs. Joe Goldsmith and Peter Ussher of McGill were on the affirmative; Messrs. L. Borsook and Sam Berger of Toronto on the negative. The judges were Dr. H. Walter of McGill University, Mr. Louis Fitch, B.C.L., and Mr. Ben Bernstein, B.C.L. Dr. Walter, in a few well chosen words, gave the decision to the affirmative and presented them with the D. E. Bennett Debating Cup. Miss Juliette Kahn, secretary of the Intercollegiate Menorah Association, spoke on Menorah work and ideals. Mr. J. Stuchen, president of the U. of T. Menorah, gave a short talk, while the judges were preparing their decision. Music for dancing was provided by the Z.B.T. orchestra.

A thé dansant was held at the Venetian Gardens, on Saturday afternoon, March 3, in honour of the members of the debating team from the University of Toronto. Among those present were Miss Juliette Kahn, Miss Ann Tarshis, Miss Dolly Klineberg, Miss Queenie Klineberg, Messrs. J. Stucher, A. Berger, L. Bonsook, E. Elber, all of Toronto, and H. Vineberg, R. Jacobs, O. Klineberg and H. Batshaw. On Sunday evening the Toronto men were the guests of the Sigma Alpha Mu Fraternity at the performance of "The Pennant," which was given by the Temple Emanu-El at the Empire Theatre.

On Thursday evening, February 22, there was held in the hall of the Temple Emanu-El, an inaugural dinner in honour of the incoming of the new president, Mr. Clarence Michaels. Seventy members and guests gathered in the hall and sat down to dinner which was prepared by the members of the Sisterhood.

Preceding the business of the evening, a very elaborate program of entertainment prepared under the auspices of Mr. Arthur Schalck, was enjoyed. Through the courtesy of Mr. Elmer Floyd, manager of the Bagdad, the Bagdad orchestra of five pieces had been placed at the disposal of the Temple Brotherhood and discoursed music throughout the dinner and during the evening. Miss Elzie Thevennid, solist of the Bagdad, delighted the members with a few well chosen songs. Mr. L. A. Howard entertained us with topical songs. Mr. J. Beauchamp also rendered some popular songs. Mr. Larry Mack, film star with the Fox Film Company, and a guest of the Brotherhood, was introduced and entertained the members with recitations and the latest songs.

Mr. Michaels then introduced the business of the evening. A resolution was unanimously adopted making the Temple Brotherhood a constituent member of the National Federation of Temple Brotherhoods recently organized at the golden jubilee in New York City, and on the National Board of which our president, Mr. Michaels, has been made an executive. A resolution was adopted for supporting the work that the Brotherhood has assumed at the University Settlement. Reports of the changes of the various committees recently appointed under the incoming president were made.

Rabbi Merritt was announced as the speaker of the evening to deliver an illustrated lecture on "The Egypt of Tut-Ankh-Amen." The lecture was richly and profusely illustrated with pictures of the temples, tombs and monuments of the ancient classical days of Egyptian art, sculpture and architecture. Rabbi Merritt took his audience through the great temple precincts of Abydos, Denderah, Edfu, Komombo and finally to the vast ruins of Luxor and Karnak. Rabbi Merritt, who was fortunate enough to have visited the valley of the kings' tombs that have been the scene of the recent excavations and the remarkable tombs that have been opened there in the last half century, revealed to his audience some marvellous pictures of the hieroglyphics and frescoes along the walls of the tombs and mummies of the Pharaohs that have been discovered there in the chambers and left there just as they have been found by the excavators.

Hall, 658 St. Andery Street, on Wednesday, March 14, 1923.
